Windows 95b/98a BACKUP disk Set

UPDATED

What you need is:

Access to a pc with a CD ROM
29 blank floppy disks...(good quality brand not cheap ones see note 4)

A copy of windows 95b CD
A copy of MaxiDisk 4.2 from <http://www.herne.com/>
(I use this one) they are shareware programs that will format a 1.44 floppy to 1.7 MB

For Windows 3.x, '95, '98 and ME. Not XP

Settings

-----
Format all the disks to 1.7
Copy win95 Folder from CD to Harddrive, if you don't need AOL or CompuServe you can delete 4 files: .....

Setup25i (aol) 1.904kb

Setup32 (aol) 6.573kb

Cs3kit (CompuServe) 5.648kb

Wowkit 19.227kb (CompuServe) .....see note 5

Now copy (not extract) to floppy CAB's win_95 03 to win_95 28 (26 cab's to 26 floppies).

Now copy (not extract) to one floppy file's, precopy1 and precopy2.

Now send the rest of the files over two floppies (29 floppies in all)

Don't forget to label disks...1.2.3.ect

Example

-----

To load on to pc/laptop Boot with a win95 bootdisk format Hard drive, (format c:) DO NOT LOAD DOS 6.22

and at command prop C type:

C:\>md win95 <enter> then type

C:\>cd win95 <enter> then type

C:\win95> copy A:\ insert first floppy <enter>...see note 2

Press F3 to repeat last line then <enter> till all disk loaded then type

C:\win95> setup <enter> to load windows.....see note 3

Connecting PC to PC/Laptop UPDATED

Notes

Error messages:

comments

1: If you get an error sending files to floppy you will need to redo that disk again, but not on that disk use a new one. (Note4)

2: If you get an error copying files from floppy to the Harddrive you will need to redo that disk again but on a new disk not the same one, and press yes to overwrite on reload to HD. (Note 4)

3: If you get the error message on setup [can't read from a:\] or [can't find missing file ] at 98% install just press skip or cancel and setup will continue.

4: Some 1.44 floppies won't format properly to 1.7 MB so get good quality brand

5: If you do need this you will need a file shredder

6: If a disk gets damage or corrupt at any time you only need to redo that one floppy, from any win95b CD ROM not the whole set.
